All the best and have fun with your matches :)The objective of this project is to compare costs and effectiveness of various second-generation antipsychotics (SGAs) in the treatment of schizophrenia. In 1992, SGAs displaced conventional antipsychotics, primarily because of their efficacy as well as their better tolerability, cost and safety profiles. Their introduction allowed clinicians to target more aggressive treatment to more seriously ill patients in whom conventional antipsychotics failed. One very important clinical implication of this shift in therapeutic policy was the dramatic increase in the number of patients hospitalized for schizophrenia. In fact, inpatient stays for schizophrenia have increased from 10 percent of all hospital admissions in 1980 to 33 percent of all hospital admissions in 1997. The recent attention to the negative impact of hospitalizations has also led to a series of literature reports documenting the short and long term costs of hospitalization, which have generally reached staggering proportions. In addition, SGAs are more expensive than conventional antipsychotics. This will be addressed in the last section of the proposal.Q: How to select two tables using union? I have two tables with following structure In the second table I have multiple rows that get replaced with a comma in the first table. I'd like to be able to select that union column. I've tried looking into casting but that doesn't seem to be working. SELECT CAST(object_id AS int) AS object_id, nombre AS tipo, fk_u AS 'type_id' FROM tabla2 WHERE codigo = x union all SELECT CAST(object_id AS int) AS object_id, nombre AS tipo, fk_u AS 'type_id' FROM tabla1 WHERE codigo = x A: You can use the union all with an inline view : select object_id, nombre
